Camp Is the Realness Kids Need

We are living in a time when much of childhood is filtered, edited, and manufactured. Images are altered. Stories are curated. Artificial intelligence can generate answers, art, and experiences in seconds. Even relationships are increasingly mediated through screens. For children growing up in this landscape, it can be difficult to know what is authentic, what can be trusted, and where they truly belong.

Summer Camp at The Center offers something incredibly powerful and increasingly rare. It offers realness.

At camp, experiences are not virtual. They are simply lived. A horse responds honestly to how it is handled. A campfire only burns if someone gathers wood and tends the flame. A high ropes course requires effort, trust, and persistence. Campers feel the weight of responsibility and the pride that comes from following through. These moments cannot be edited or replaced. They are earned.

Relationships at camp are real too. Campers learn how to be in community without filters or avatars. They learn how to listen, how to disagree respectfully, how to repair when things go wrong, and how to care for one another in tangible ways. Counselors know campers by name, notice their strengths, and walk alongside them through challenges. In a world where so much interaction is transactional or anonymous, this kind of genuine connection is essential.

Being real matters more than ever because children are still forming their sense of self. They need places where they can test their limits safely, make real decisions, and experience real consequences and real grace. Camp grounds children in what is true. Dirt under fingernails. Laughter shared across a table. Quiet moments of courage, kindness, and accomplishment. These experiences build confidence, resilience, and trust in ways no technology can replicate.

For over 90 years, The Center has held space for this kind of formation. It is one of the most important things we do.

Why Camp Scholarships Matter

The Camp Scholarship Fund is truly at the heart of The Center's mission. We believe deeply that access to real, formative experiences should never depend on a family's financial situation. Scholarships ensure that camp remains open, welcoming, and inclusive, allowing children from all backgrounds to experience growth, belonging, and joy.

This mission is only possible because of the generosity of folks like you. Your support turns values into action and belief into opportunity.

This year, our goal is to raise $65,000 in camp scholarship funds and we are grateful to share that a $10,000 matching gift has already been pledged, making this a powerful moment to give. Every dollar donated now will be doubled, extending the reach of your generosity and opening the door for even more children to experience camp.

When you give to the Camp Scholarship Fund, you are not just supporting a program. You are offering children something real in a world that often feels uncertain and artificial. You are helping ensure that The Center remains a place where children can grow and become fully alive.

Join Us at Our Fundraising Event: A Night to Linger- March 12

To help raise the necessary funds for camp scholarships, we invite you to join us for our annual fundraising event, A Night to Linger, on Thursday, March 12. This evening is a chance for our community to gather in a real and meaningful way, to slow down, share space, and celebrate the honest, life-shaping work of camp. Your participation directly supports children who need access to real experiences, real connection, and real growth at The Center. We invite you to attend, donate, linger, and help us reach our goal of sending more children to camp in 2026. Whether you have been part of camp for decades or are just beginning to learn about our mission, your presence and generosity matter. Together, we can ensure that Summer Camp at The Center remains real, inclusive, and accessible for all children, now, and for generations to come.

Thank you for being part of this work.

Rooted in Sarah Ban Breathnach’s Simple Abundance, the group, now in its 29th year, seeks ways to live authentically and joyfully. “Gratitude is the thread we weave into the fabric of our daily lives this month, giving thanks for our simply abundant lives,” says Sarah encouragingly. She encourages us to consider keeping a gratitude journal, perhaps to create a sacred space to consecrate our inner work, and to bring color into our home environment that lifts our spirits, whether through living plants or cosmetics. We hope that you’ll be able to join us. We are now taking a group outing each month. If you have any questions, please contact the Center office by email at thechildrensfarm@thecenterpalos.org

Garden Volunteers Interest Meeting: We dig our garden!

Sunday, March 15, 2:00 p.m. in the Farm Greenhouse

Do you like to play in the dirt? Are you thrilled when seeds sprout, or when the first tomatoes ripen? Would you like to be part of a community of volunteers in the Children’s Farm Greenhouse and Garden? We plant and water seeds in greenhouse trays in Feb, March, and April, then repot the seedlings into pots for selling at the plant sale and for transplanting into the farm garden in May. All summer and fall, we water, weed, tend, and harvest in the garden. And we dry herbs, shell beans, make herbal vinegars and tea bags in the fall, and sell produce and garden products in the Farm Store and at the Christmas Market. Join us on Sunday, March 15th, in the farm greenhouse to start your adventure as a Children’s Farm Garden Volunteer!

Farm & Nature Discovery School

February is the month of love! We will be spreading out a theme of love, friendship, inclusion, and community during this month. While we do this in our everyday curriculum, we will hyper focus on social and emotional milestones for our students. We will be tying these skills into planned activities that foster sharing, team work, classroom community building, kindness, generosity, empathy, and more. We will have Valentine’s Day parties in each session where the children will exchange valentines, participate in themed games and activities, and create a cute craft to go along with the Valentine theme.

February is also Black History Month. Throughout February, we will sprinkle books, crafts, and more to teach our children about artists, authors, teachers, inventors, heroes, and more throughout Black History and in our current society. We will also participate in activities and lessons that focus on inclusion, equity, and diversity, which will directly correlate to our theme of love and friendship.

For the overall monthly theme, our students will be "Going Underground!" The children will be exploring all things that live and grow underground, including fossils, caves, animals, insects, plants, and roots! This is one of our favorite themes, as there is so much to learn about that we cannot see easily.

The children will go on worm hunts, investigate root vegetables, grow geodes, and make fossil prints in salt dough. We will look at pictures of caves and pretend to be spelunkers exploring deep, dark caverns. We will watch short videos about animals that live underground or build their homes underground, as well as animals that live in caves. There is so much to learn about in the underground world!

Registration for the 2026- 2027 school year is open to the public as of January 22nd, 2026! Information for next year, including tuition rates, is available upon inquiry. If you or someone you know would like to learn more about our school, or would like to set up a tour, I, Danielle Bell, can be contacted at 708-361-8933 or by email at FarmandNature@TheCenterPalos.org.
